MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR

HENRY LESSNER

Town of Fairview
372 Town Place
Fairview, TX 75069
972-562-0522

Hi Fairview!

I want to share an update with you on the temple proposed by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (LDS).

As you know, in August your Town Council unanimously denied a conditional use permit for construction of the temple, which would be totally out of place in that portion of our community. The Church has retained attorneys and lawsuits have been threatened to pressure us into allowing construction of the 43,200-square-foot, 65-foot-tall building with a steeple and spire reaching almost 174 feet. At 174 feet, the temple would be the tallest structure in Fairview towering over a residentially-zoned area. The area has been zoned residential since at least 2007, long before the Church acquired the property.

Fairview has been a welcoming home to an LDS meetinghouse for many years. This is a zoning issue concerning the size of the new building. Equivalent to more than 16 stories high—substantially higher than the figure of Lady Liberty on the Statue of Liberty—it is massive and completely out of proportion to the residential neighborhood. It would dominate the Town's skyline and change the character of our community. It would also establish a precedent for other future religious facilities. If the Town's established zoning restrictions have no meaning, how much larger will the next church be?

In a good faith effort to resolve this issue without litigation the Town has met with representatives of the Church to see if we could work out an agreement that would take our citizens' valid concerns into account. We hope to negotiate with the LDS Church to either scale down the current plans to fit in the neighborhood or move the temple to a location in the portion of the Town zoned for commercial use.

To continue to show our good faith, Town leaders have agreed to participate in non-binding mediation with Church representatives. The mediation process involves an independent third party who will try to assist both sides with resolving an issue. Mediation is almost always required by the courts in the event of a lawsuit, so by participating in this process now we are hopeful we can avoid litigation. The Mayor, Mayor Pro Tem, Town Manager, and Town Attorney will attend the mediation and subsequently relay any reasonable proposals to the Council.

It is important to stress that while private parties can reach a resolution through mediation, because Fairview is a municipal government any proposed agreement would only be considered in a duly-noticed public meeting by the Town Council with input from Fairview citizens. In addition, the complete zoning process would be required before approval. This would include public hearings, recommendation by the Planning and Zoning Commission and finally approval by the Town Council. At every step we will keep our citizens informed of the content of any new proposal that may be considered.

There is a great deal of evidence that the Church has modified temple designs around the world to consider local preferences. Recently in Tooele, Utah, the Church changed plans for a temple and residential development after community objections. The proposed site for the Tooele temple was moved a few miles north of the original site and the temple name changed to the Deseret Peak Temple.

There is absolutely no reason why the Church cannot respect our community's resolve to maintain the character of our Town. The willingness to participate in good faith mediation does not change our position or commitment.

The Town Council recently approved the creation of a Zoning Defense Fund to protect the Town if there is litigation. I urge community members and any other persons who believe in our cause to consider contributing to our Zoning Defense Fund. Details are on the Town's website.

Bird of the Month

Merlin

By Paul Marto Jr.

Greetings to all my fellow birding peeps!

Today, we focus on the elusive ruby-crowned kinglet. These lovely songbirds are very small, extremely quick and are always on the move, as if they have had WAY too much coffee. That is what makes kinglet hunting such a challenge.

Truth be told, frequently I find that trying to get a great photograph of the ruby-crowned kinglet is an exercise in frustration. But please don't let that prevent you from grabbing the binoculars and heading out to try and spot this beautiful little gem. The bird has olive-green plumage with two white wing bars and a white eye ring. The adult males have a ruby crown patch that is usually concealed but does become visible when the bird gets excited.

They are fairly common winter residents in North Texas and they prefer coniferous and deciduous forests, thickets and low woodland habitats.

Happy Birding!

Passwords 101: Enhancing Digital Security (Part 2)

Contributed by the Technology Advisory Committee

In Part 1 of our series, we explored the fundamental aspects of creating strong passwords and the significance of securing your digital assets. Now, we turn our attention to advanced strategies and tools that further fortify your online security.

Password Management Tools<sup>1</sup>

We're often advised to create strong, unique passwords for our online accounts, especially for crucial ones like email, banking, shopping, and social media. However, managing numerous accounts with different passwords can be challenging.

A password manager offers a solution. It securely stores all your passwords, so you don't have to remember them. This enables you to use strong, unique passwords for each account, enhancing your security by avoiding password reuse.

Here's how they work and why they are indispensable:

- 1. Secure Storage: Password managers encrypt your passwords, keeping them safe from unauthorized access.
- 2. Ease of Access: You can access your passwords using a single master password or biometric authentication, like fingerprints or face scans.
- 3. Password Generation: They create complex, random passwords, which are much harder to crack than those created by humans.
- 4. Password Reuse Alerts: They alert you if you're reusing passwords across different accounts.
- 5. Auto-Fill: Automatically fill in your login credentials, reducing the risk of password theft through keyloggers.
- 6. Breach Notifications: They notify you if your password appears in a known data breach, so you can take immediate action.

There are many options when it comes to password managers. Some are free, like the built-in password managers in your web browser, and some cost money. Search a trusted source, like "Consumer Reports," which offers a selection of highly rated password managers.<sup>2</sup>

Multi-Factor Authentication (MFA)<sup>3</sup>

Even the strongest password can be compromised. Multi-Factor Authentication (MFA) adds an additional layer of security, requiring two or more verification methods to gain access to an account. Here's how MFA works and its benefits:

- 1. Something You Know: Your password.
- 2. Something You Have: A smartphone, security token or authentication app.
- 3. Something You Are: Biometric verification like fingerprint or facial recognition.

MFA significantly reduces the risk of unauthorized access, even if your password is stolen. Common MFA methods include SMS codes, email verification and authenticator apps like Google Authenticator and Authy.

Two-Factor Authentication (2FA)<sup>4</sup>

A subset of MFA, Two-Factor Authentication (2FA) combines two verification steps, typically something you know (password) and something you have (a code sent to your phone). This simple but effective measure can thwart many common cyber threats. Enabling 2FA on your accounts adds an extra layer of defense, making it much harder for attackers to gain access.

Best Practices for Ongoing Security

- 1. Regular Updates: Change your passwords periodically and update security settings.
- 2. Backing up your data:<sup>5</sup> Data backups are vital for cybersecurity, protecting against ransomware, and data loss. Safeguard your most important data, such as your photos and key documents, by backing them up to an external hard drive or a cloud-based storage system.
- 3. Unique Passwords: Never reuse passwords across multiple sites.
- 4. Educate Yourself: Stay informed about the latest security threats and protection strategies.
- 5. Secure Devices: Ensure your devices are protected with strong passwords, antivirus software and firewalls.

Enhancing your digital security requires a multi-faceted approach, combining strong passwords, advanced management tools and additional authentication methods. As cyber threats evolve, so must our defenses. By adopting these practices, you can significantly reduce your risk of falling victim to cyberattacks.

Stay vigilant, stay secure, and make digital safety a priority in your daily life.

Meet our July Actor of Fairview Olivia

Olivia, 11 years old and currently in 6th grade, caught the acting bug in 2022 and hasn't looked back!

After watching a production of "Matilda" with her friends, she knew she was meant to be on that same stage. Wasting no time, she auditioned for her very first show, "Junie B. Jones Jr.," and has since performed in 10 productions, loving every moment.

Her favorite role so far? The Ugly Duckling in "Honk Jr.," where she got to showcase her comedic and heartfelt side. For Olivia, the best part of theater is sharing the stage with her friends, creating unforgettable memories together.

This month, Olivia takes the stage for her 11th show, "A Christmas Story," directed by Jason Robert Villarreal. Based on the beloved holiday classic, this musical brings to life the adventure of Ralphie, a young boy on a quest for the ultimate Christmas gift. Olivia is thrilled to play Ralphie, a role that challenges her to express five different emotions at once – making it her most exciting role yet!

Looking to add some holiday magic to your season? Don't miss Olivia and her talented cast in "A Christmas Story" at NTPA – Fairview Youth Theatre, running Dec. 5-8! Tickets can be purchased at NTPA.org/Event/A-Christmas-Story-Musical.

Fairview Resident, Sue Reeves, Part of Electoral College

Heritage Ranch resident Sue Reeves was chosen as a 2024 presidential elector.

According to the National Archives, choosing each state's electors – the Electoral College – is a two-part process. First, before the November general election, the political parties choose slates of potential electors. Then, during the general election, the voters in each state select their state's electors by casting their ballots.

When voters cast their presidential ballots, they are voting for a political party's slate of electors. The winning presidential candidate's slate of potential electors are appointed as the state's electors, except in Nebraska and Maine, which have proportional distribution of the electors. Texas has 40 electoral votes.

Texas' electors cast their votes at the State Capitol in December. Their ballots are then sent to the U.S. Congress, where votes are counted.

Reeves was chosen by the Republican Party to represent Texas District 3. Frisco resident Sandeep Srivastava was selected by the Collin County Democrats as their candidate for District 3.

On its website, the National Archives says, "Political parties often choose individuals for the slate to recognize their service and dedication to that political party."

Reeves has been active in multiple campaigns, served as precinct chair for many years and is currently the secretary for the Collin County GOP.

We are open 8:30-5:00 Monday thru Thursday and 8:30-2:00 Friday

Annual Peanut Butter Drive Results

Fairview Repeats Best Per Capita Giving

Nearly $300,000 and more than 84,000 pounds of peanut butter was raised during the North Texas Food Bank's 11th annual Peanut Butter Drive in September.

The totals were announced during an event Oct. 22.

"The Peanut Butter Drive is about more than just collecting food; it's about ensuring that no child in our community goes hungry. We are incredibly grateful for the partnership and support from our community," said Trisha Cunningham, NTFB President and CEO. "As we continue to distribute record amounts of food, the contributions from the Peanut Butter Drive are vital in providing nutritious options to the nearly 287,000 children facing hunger in North Texas."

For the third year, the drive included cities, neighborhoods, schools, corporations, faith-based organizations and community groups that mobilized in all of the 13 counties served by the NTFB.

Donations will be distributed through the food bank's network of partner pantries and community organizations as well as its Food 4 Kids backpack program, which sends chronically hungry students home each Friday with a bag of nonperishable food for the weekend.

During the Peanut Butter Drive Reveal Ceremony Oct. 22, several key contributors were honored for their exceptional efforts:

- ▶ Top City: Plano
- ▶ Top City Per Capita: Fairview
- ▶ Top Company: NTT DATA
- ▶ Top Educational Organization: Rice Middle School
- ▶ Top Faith-Based Organization: Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints
- ▶ Top Neighborhood: Heritage Ranch Neighborhood
- ▶ Top Community Group: HungerMitao

The daughter of one HungerMitao member, Ariya Daniels, wanted to support the drive and, with the help of her sisters, raised $10,000 for her 12th birthday. HungerMitao is one of NTFB's cultural affinity groups.

The top faith-based organization is a multi-year winner and this year increased their giving by almost three times, raising $9,230 and collecting 1,191 pounds of peanut butter.

In Fairview, which won Top City Per Capita, nearly a pound of peanut butter was raised for every person living in Fairview. That success came, in part, thanks to the work of the Top Neighborhood winner, Heritage Ranch, which together collected 8,408 pounds of peanut butter.

Plano, where the drive started 11 years ago, took the Top City award and Top Educational Organization, as Rice Middle School is in Plano ISD. The city saw participation from multiple departments, schools and organizations.

Kathryn Cope, NTFB Strategic Initiative Manager who organized the drive, also gave a shout out to Texas Health Presbyterian Hospital in Plano, which held a contest among staff for the most creative peanut butter display. Staff used peanut butter jars to create a Harry Potter figure, a heart, a hot air balloon and more, all while collecting 4,251 pounds of peanut butter.

Cunningham added that while everyone is a winner in a drive that supports the community, she loves seeing the friendly competition among participants.

"We are so grateful for you, and we can't wait to do this again next year," she said.

The ABCs of Weekly Trash and Recycling Collection

Remember these tips to ensure efficient trash and recycling pickup:

- a. Arrange carts carefully with handles facing your home, lids open toward the street, and 2 feet of space between carts and other objects.
- b. Be punctual by placing carts at the edge of the street no earlier than 5 p.m. the day before collection and no later than 7 a.m. on collection day. Roll carts back to your house by 6 a.m. the day after pickup.
- c. Close lids without clamping or locking. If your trash cart is full, purchase a pink tag for $2.22 from the Town. Only bags with Town-issued tags will be collected outside carts (except during bulk pickup week).

Did You Know? Empty cardboard boxes don't have to go to the landfill. If they're clean and dry, they can be cut down and folded flat to fit inside your recycling cart.
