

Update on the 2018 Capital Planning Process

The Fairview Town Council recently announced the development of a new process as they move forward with planning for the capital needs of the Town. One of the primary goals in that process is to ensure opportunity is provided for residents from all areas of Town to both provide feedback as well as to participate in the planning process.

The process included establishing a group of residents to assist in the process. The committee, the Community Resource Group (CRG), has been activated with representatives from across the community. The CRG consists of the following members:

The CRG process was initiated in February. The CRG was asked to complete a preliminary survey about the last bond election. The CRG was then divided into two focus groups and meetings were held with the guidance of a facilitator to further discuss the results of the survey and the bond election process. The facilitator, an outside consultant hired by the Town, will present a report on the meetings to the Town Council at the March 6 Town Council meeting. A copy of the survey results is included on this page. A copy of the report that is presented to the Town Council will also be included on this page as will future updates as the process continues.
